ETF Global® Portfolio Challenge

With nearly $3 Trillion in U.S. listed Exchange-Traded Funds, the demand for these products continues to grow for what many hail as the investment vehicle of the future. The mounting popularity of ETFs, particularly among Millennials, prompted ETF Global to launch an initiative aimed at educating future investors about ETFs before they go on to make their own investment decisions in the marketplace.

The ETF Global® Portfolio Challenge is a virtual investment competition in which participants construct a hypothetical portfolio of between 4-10 ETFs and compete on their portfolio's performance. Having already reached thousands of students from six continents and three hundred academic institutions, we welcome all college students to participate in this competition and learn about the fastest growing investment vehicle in the marketplace.

Below is a brief overview of the contest. For a more detailed description of the challenge and its sponsors, please visit www.etfportfoliochallenge.com.
