4. Course Description

Course Description	This course shows how the basic principles of marketing can be applied to marketing problems across national boundaries and within foreign countries. Attention is paid to the development of global marketing strategies and to the different approaches needed to market consumer items, industrial goods, and services internationally. The impact on marketing of the cultural, economic, political, and technological environments in different countries will be assessed.
Prerequisites	MKTG2501: Introduction to Marketing

5. Course Objectives

1. This course aims to help students learn how to develop a global perspective when formulating marketing strategies and adapt marketing decisions according to specific characteristics of different country markets. Students will learn how to apply theoretical frameworks about global marketing to real-world business issues through lectures, case studies, and group projects.
